Congressional Intervention—The 8th of January Convention.

It is not generally known that the State Democratic Convention, which met in this city on the 8th of January last, had before it the question of Congressional intervention for the protection of slavery in the Territories, and took a firm position. Such, however, is the fact. Hon. H. M. Bush, the State Senator from Greenup, and a delegate from that county, offered in Convention a resolution, as an amendment to the report of the committee on resolutions, which takes strong ground in favor of Congressional intervention. This resolution, a copy of which is before us, was laid upon the table by an almost unanimous vote, and the action of the Convention, although the resolution might have been presented out of the regular order of business, must be regarded as significant of the sentiments of the Kentucky Democracy upon this question. We mention this striking incident in the proceedings of the Convention for the benefit of such Kentucky editors as now seek to force the party into a position inconsistent with its platform by advocating Congressional intervention, notwithstanding the fact that they themselves were delegates to the Convention, and participated in its action when the resolution was tabled. They should have shown themselves in favor of intervention when the assembled Democracy of the State were in council; and if they desired it to be engraved upon the creed of the party, should have then and there urged the adoption of the resolution, or some other resolution embodying the like principle. But they were either nina, or voted with the majority to lay the whole subject upon the table!

Whilst we are entirely willing to concede to every member of our party the right to his private opinion upon this question, we, at the same time, deny the right of any one to insist upon his peculiar view as an article of party faith. In adopting the Cincinnati platform, the Kentucky Democracy pledged their faith to the principle of non-intervention by Congress upon the subject of slavery in State or Territory, and in tabling Bush's resolution, with perhaps not more than three dissenting voices out of the hundreds present, they gave still more unmistakable evidence of their hostility to this new-fangled dogma of "intervention."

The Old Line Whigs.

The K. N. press claim that many Old-Line Whigs have gone over to Bell and the K. N. ticket, and in support of the assertion have published some communications to that effect from their correspondents. Our information from all parts of the State flatly contradicts this statement. We have yet to hear of a single Whig vote that has been with us in the late elections that will not be cast in support of Magoffin in the August election. On this subject we make extracts below from private letters of a late date. They are from gentlemen thoroughly posted, and we wish that we were at liberty to use their names, as we know of the mention of them would satisfy every reader of the certainty of what is asserted:

April 21st, 1859.

I heard Magoffin and Bell at Lebanon and at Campbellsville. Magoffin is competent to the task of handling Mr. B. Bell was so much at Campbellsville he spoke with a vigorous, manly voice, and without much point or judgment. There are no more enthusiastic voters and warm supporters of our entire State ticket than the Old-Line Whigs who have voted with us heretofore. Bell gets no Old-Liners except such as love, like himself, voted for the K. N. party. We are in no danger, except from a fancied security that may enable the Opposition to steal a march on us.

BRANDENBURG, April 19, 1859.

DEAR SIR: Magoffin will get all the Old Line Whig votes in this section. I do not think he will miss one in this county. Of course he will get the Democratic strength. We are determined to give him every Democratic vote in the county.

Whenever you see it stated that Capt. Jackson was Peyton up in debate, you may set it down as a mistake. I heard them last Monday at the Breckinridge Circuit Court, and was much surprised, from what I had heard, to hear Peyton use him up in the able manner that he did.

The "central organ" of the Opposition says it is "authorized to say that in five years the State debt will be paid." We feel so good we must pause. For twenty years Kentucky has been laboring under a heavy debt which, on the 1st of December, 1857, amounted to $5,574,211.00. Her statesmen during that long period made but little headway in reducing the burden. The people have been groaning under taxation directly out of their pockets, which has been increased from six to twenty cents. But hold! We are just coming to the best of it. The debt is not only to be paid off in five years, but at the end of that time we are positively to have a "surplus" of upwards of $2,000,000 left after paying the debt. "Two dollars a day and roast beef." Who cares for expenses?

But let us see into this thing. Why is it that a debt which has scarcely been shaken during twenty long years of effort, is now to be paid off so suddenly? Why have not the "powers that be" paid it off long ago? The taxes have been as heavy as now, and every thing else as favorable to a settlement of the debt as now, and yet but a small portion of it, comparatively, has been paid. Ah, yes, we catch the idea now. We are just on the eve of an election, in which the people are to choose their rulers. The us must wait to keep on.

Figures won't lie. Let us consult them. We find, from the Auditor's report, that the whole receipts into the Treasury from all sources, and for all purposes, is about a million of dollars. About one-half of this sum is expended in the ordinary expenditures of the government. Of the remainder, about one-half goes to the support of common schools. So that we may safely set down that about three hundred thousand dollars of this is for the sinking fund, which is charged with the payment of the principal and interest of the public debt. Two thirds or three fourths of the last named sum is required to pay the annual interest upon the debt. The remainder will be left to be appropriated to the principal.

With $100,000 a year, or less, to pay towards the principal, how many years will be required to liquidate five millions of dollars? Five years, says the organ, and $2,000,000 surplus left. Rather say about twenty or thirty. Why, if every dollar of the revenues of the State were at the disposal of the "organ"—no State expenses, no interest, no schools to pay—the public debt could not be paid in less than five years. "We are authorized to say" that this is a great country for mathematicians! Very!!

THOS. B. MONROE, JR.—We publish in another column a communication from a Democrat of this place, urging the nomination of this gentleman as the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district. While we do not attempt to lead public opinion upon the subject, or take sides in behalf of any one of those named in connection with the position, we may be allowed to concur with our correspondent in all he says of Mr. Monroe's popularity and claims for promotion. We think him more than a match in ability for any one the Opposition is likely to put in nomination, and if zealous devotion to the principles of Democracy, and the most brilliant and efficient services for their promotion and success, give any one claims upon the party, very few would have precedence of him.

His late election as mayor of the city of Lexington is an earnest of what his personal popularity will accomplish for him in a more extended field of operations. We are satisfied that with the nomination of Monroe, Simms, Johnson, Porter, Metcalfe, Dickerson, Desha, or others already pointed out by popular sentiment, in the event of the continued refusal of Mr. Clay to allow his name to go before the Nashville Convention, the Democracy are sure of an easy victory in the Ashland district.

The Louisville Journal, in an editorial of a day before yesterday, speaks of the Lexington bill as "the atrocious act of known as Lecomptonism." Joshua F. Bell says in his speeches he would have voted for the Lecompton bill if he had been in Congress. How we applaud him! But we must not forget that Bell has repudiated the Journal as his organ. The Journal, however, is with him on the "fire-eating" question of Congressional intervention, and this, we suppose, more than makes up for the difference which exists between them upon the "atrocious outrage known as Lecomptonism."

The Journal thought it was "atrocious" to repeal the Missouri restriction and to establish the doctrine of non-intervention in its stead. The editor is anxious to get up the agitation again in Congress, which he well knows is a bad atmosphere for the protection of southern rights.

THEATRE.—The Frankfort theater will be opened to-night for a short season, by Mr. E. T. Simon as manager, and Mr. R. C. Grierson as stage manager. Mr. Simon has engaged for a few nights the charming little actress, Miss Maggie Mitchell, who is perhaps one of the most pleasing and versatile actresses on the stage. She can play in farce, comedy, or drama, dance or sing, as occasion requires, and has never failed to draw large and appreciative audiences wherever she has appeared. Among the company we notice the names of several who are deservedly popular in Frankfort—Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. Grierson, and the imitable and laugh-provoking Harry Chapman—besides a number of others whose names are unknown to us.

The pieces selected for to-night are the comedy of Katy O'Shield, in which Miss Maggie Mitchell will sustain the character of Katy O'Shield, and will sing the song of "Trust to Luck," and dance an Irish jig. To conclude with the protean farce of the "Four Sisters," in which Maggie Mitchell will play four different characters. From the bill and from the reputation of the most of those who appear in the pieces, we feel warranted in promising those who visit the theater to-night a pleasant and agreeable evening, and recommending all who wish to enjoy a good hearty laugh to attend.

Old Fellows' Celebration.

On Tuesday last the fraternity of Old Fellows of our town and county celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the establishment of the Order in the United States, by a procession and dinner. Although the day was generally observed throughout the country, there was no determination on the part of the Order in this place to make any demonstration until about five days previously. The time, of course, was too short to consummate arrangements on as extensive a scale as under other circumstances would have been made, yet the celebration was very creditable and enlightening to our city, and participated in with very general satisfaction.

The procession was formed at Old Fellows' Hall, under the direction of J. D. Pollard and Col. S. I. M. Major as Marshals of the day, and, preceded by a fine band of music, moved through the streets to the Methodist Church, where a very excellent address was delivered by Rev. Joseph Rand. The exercises at the church consisted of vocal music by the choir, instrumental by the band, and the address. The vocal part of the performance was much admired. Miss Gillespie gracefully presided at the Melodeon, assisted by young gentlemen with excellent bass and tenor voices. After these exercises concluded, the procession again formed and was about one hour on the march. Enjoying a short respite at the Hall, the Fraternity reappeared in full regalia, and moved down Broadway street to St. Clair, up St. Clair to Main, up Main to the Capital Hotel to the dinner. As they arrived near the private entrance to the Hotel, they were halted by the Chief Marshal and opened the ranks to receive the invited guests, about thirty in number, consisting of all the State officers, ex-Chief Justice Marshall, Hon. Thos. B. Monroe, of the Federal Court, Senator Crittenden, the clergy, and several citizens. Partaking of a repast that had been provided in very satisfactory style by the landlord, Mr. R. C. Steele, who contributed greatly to the comfort and wants of the assembly by his prompt attentions, the following toasts were read by Dr. Mills:

1. The day we celebrate—The 4th anniversary of the establishment of the Order in the United States. May its successive return always full of principles of benevolence and charity untainted.

2. Thomas Wilson—The founder of the Order of Old Fellowship in the United States. May his last days be his best days, and his final reward, "well done good and faithful servant."

3. John P. Entwistle—The originator of the 21st or Covenant Degree, the gem of our order. Let us cherish his memory with affectionate regard.

4. The Grand Lodge of the United States and the Grand Lodge of Kentucky.

5. The Ladies—No girl equal to the gentle pressure of their hands; no sign so readily observed as their eyes; no degree so willingly received as their affections; and no regalia so beautiful as their smiles. We forget that we are Old Fellows whenever we get even with them.

This toast was received with full round of applause.

6. The Executive and other State officers of Kentucky—May they relieve honorably the positions they respectively occupy, and be true to the trusts confided in them.

Responded to by Hon. Mason Brown, Secretary of State.

Responded to by Hon. Thos. B. Monroe, of the Federal Court.

7. The Judiciary—We welcome with pleasure its representatives at our festive board to-day.

Responded to by Col. S. I. M. Major, of the Kentucky Yeoman.

8. The United States Senators from Kentucky—We feel well assured that the interests of our Commonwealth are safe in their hands in the national council, and that, as true patriots, they will ever be found on the side of the Union.

Responded to by Hon. John J. Crittenden, who thanked the Order for their hospitality, and on behalf of himself and his absent colleagues, acknowledged handsomely the compliment of the sentiment.

The Order then proceeded to Old Fellows' Hall, where the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That the thanks of the entire Fraternity be tendered to Miss Adeline Gillette for her valuable services in conducting the music in the church.

2. Resolved, That the young gentlemen of the town who aided on the occasion.

3. To Rev. Joseph Rand for his very appropriate address, as orator of the day.

The members then dispersed, well pleased with all the proceedings of the day.

The Congressional Nomination.

FRANKFORT, April 25th, 1859.

EDITOR YEOMAN: Learning that James B. Clay will not permit his name to be used under any contingency for the Congressional race approaching, the many friends of Thos. B. Monroe, Jr., of Lexington, are hopeful that it may be given him.

There are many reasons why he could make a good race; among them are his well known popularity in Fayette—the ardor with which the young men would rally to his aid; his long and successful connection as editor with a Democratic paper of acknowledged merit; his sound legal education; his readiness in debate, and his capacity to make friends. Added to this, is the influence of his family and friends here. I really think you would do our party a service by giving his name its deserved prominence.

Your friend, &c., R.

To Dress Well.—Persons who wish to dress comfortably and elegantly, should always deal with a merchant who keeps the best quality and newest styles of goods—with a man who knows when a garment fits, and how to suit and please the taste of his customers. Such a merchant can be found at No. 4, Masonic Temple, Louisville. Mr. B. Swain has on hand a superb assortment of summer goods, from which a gentleman can supply his entire wardrobe in the most fashionable style of the season, and at prices which cannot fail to prove satisfactory.

DEATH OF THE KENTUCKY GIANT.—James D. Porter, the Kentucky giant, died at his residence in Portland, Kentucky, on the 29th inst., in the 118th year of his age. He was seven feet nine inches high, and was supposed to be the tallest man in the world. He was born in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Rheumatism Cured.

To the readers of the Yeoman: Preserve this notice. If not afflicted yourself, you may serve suffering humanity by sending it to some one who is.

Dr. Mortimore, by personal treatment, and the use of his remedy, by Physicians and Druggists, has cured probably twenty thousand cases of this painful and paralyzing disease—comprising cases of every seeming form, from those of a recent inflammatory (acute) character, to old chronic cases of ten, twenty, and even thirty years' standing.

This disease is becoming more prevalent every year, and is seldom cured, or even alleviated, by the usual course of treatment. In its active form it often proves fatal, or if not soon arrested, becomes chronic—stiffens the joints, contracts the ligaments, muscles, and tendons, and thus renders the sufferer a cripple for life, or, if ever at all towards cure, even by the use of this remedy, requires longer treatment and greater expense.

This is a vegetable internal remedy which cures the proprietor of it after long suffering, and all the usual remedies known had failed, and is safe to be used in any state of health—even by the most delicate female or child, and its success, in curing rheumatism, is attested by thousands, among whom are eminent physicians, ministers of various denominations, prominent journalists, and individuals of high standing throughout our country, such as should inspire confidence in every rational mind.

This evidence can be had on call at the office, or those at a distance, by addressing the proprietor, will receive, by mail, a circular of evidence. The remedy can be had at $5 per bottle, or five bottles for $20. Persons ordering at a distance can remit at the proprietor's risk by registering letter, and the medicine will be forwarded by express, or as directed, to any place in the United States or Europe.
